

The New JDA Centre

Building for the future

Supporting all deaf and hard of hearing people

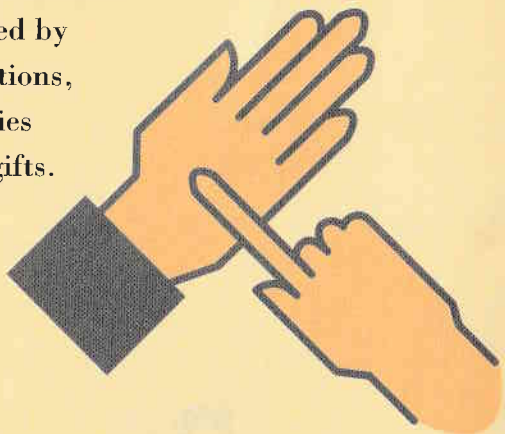

The Work of the JDA

The JDA is an independent, registered charity which offers support and advice to deaf and hard of hearing people of all ages.

We offer a wide range of facilities and services including day care, social outings and religious events.

We also provide education in signing and lip-reading, and advice and help in dealing with community, safety and financial problems.

All our services are completely FREE and are funded by donations, legacies and gifts.

The New JDA Centre

After many years of planning, and months of construction, we now reside in our purpose-built Centre in North Finchley, and can now deal with the growing need for our services.

The Centre opened in the spring of 1998 and includes a Resource Room which provides support and advice for deaf and hard of hearing people of all ages and faiths.

The building also incorporates a Day Centre with kosher dining facilities, a games and sports room, childrens' play facilities, a technology room, and communal areas which are used for education, training, sign language and lip-reading classes.

The building has been financed through support from the community, but funds are still needed to purchase special communications and educational equipment, and your help will be greatly appreciated.

Training & Education – the keys to the future

The new Centre will place considerable emphasis on facilities for teaching IT and communication skills, and helping deaf and hard of hearing people to reach their true potential.

Our tutors, both hearing and hearing impaired, can offer practical solutions to a range of challenges, but there is an ongoing need for funding for their invaluable work, especially for younger people.
